FLOOD CONTROL

WORK BEGINNING THIS WEEK ON HARNESSING OF VERDUGO WASH

For two or three weeks past surveyors connected with the county engineer's office have been running lines and marking out the channel of Verdugo Wash in the northern part of Glendale; in preparation for the beginning of the work of flood control. From Louise street up to Canada boulevard, 2 rows of 2-inch iron piling four feet apart will be driven down on either side of the channel. The space between these rows will be filled with brush, which will be packed down as tightly as possible. The first flood will deposit silt among the brush and make two solid retaining walls to hold the storm waters from overflowing. From Louise street west to the San Fernando Road large wooden piling will be used for the side walls instead of iron. In connection with this work, though under separate management, the work of building the P. E. bridge over the wash and the two highway bridges for Brand boulevard on either side of it will be carried steadily forward. These bridges will be about 150 feet south of the present ones, the wash channel being moved that far south to pass under them. This will do away with the Burbank line trestle, which acts as a dam in time of high waters. It is designed to complete the work by the time the winter floods come if come they do this season. The flood control work involves an expenditure of $98,000 and the bridges an additional $70,000. While the work on the channel and the two highway bridges is exclusively under the control of the county and the P. E. bridge will be built by that company, there will be a considerable demand for Glendale labor, especially in the clearing away of dirt and gravel from the channel, particularly the part where a new channel will be dug to divert the flow under the newly-located bridges.

JOE HAWKINS MOVES TO GLENDALE

Joe Hawkins has sold his Monrovia property and has leased the W. S. Hendricks residence at 420 East Harvard street. He will move to Glendale tomorrow. Mr. Hendricks is looking after his apartment house property in Los Angeles, and will live in that city for the next year or two.

R. E. DOWNING LOSES BROTHER

Mrs. W. T. Sprowls and R. E. Downing, who has charge of the Western Union Office in Glendale, received a message Sunday notifying them of the sudden death of their brother, O. Downing, in Chicago, August 15th. The remains are being shipped to the home of deceased at Durant, Oklahoma, and will be buried Tuesday, August 19th.

HARD CONDITIONS IN ENGLAND

Mrs. Fred Furbeck of 215 South Brand boulevard is in receipt of a letter from her sister, the only member of her family left in England. She writes that living conditions in England are very hard now. Food and everything else is very high, prices being far beyond war figures; that shoes for children are almost impossible to purchase. It is generally charged to profiteering. She also says there is quite a movement on to migrate to California on account of its favorable climate and easier living conditions. Mrs. Furbeck lost two brothers in the war, one killed in battle, the other taken prisoner by the Germans and never heard of afterwards. She also lost a sister by influenza last winter.

P. U. CAMP MEETING

ANNUAL CONFERENCE BEGAN MONDAY P. M. WILL BE OPEN TO PUBLIC THURSDAY

Secretary of Publicity Frank Coffin of the Pacific Union Conference, in company with Elder J. W. Christian, Elder J. A. Stevens, F. E. Painter and W. W. Ruble returned Sunday night from the camp meeting of Seventh Day Adventists at Oakland at which they say there was a big attendance, so big that overflow meetings were necessary although the main tent accommodated over 2000 persons. They have discovered that their Oakland camp ground is too small to accommodate all who wish to attend and a larger camp will be secured before next year's meeting.

Mr. Coffin states that the Los Angeles meeting is a double event, i. e. it will open on the camp ground on

WATCH FOR DIRIGIBLE

BIG LIGHTER THAN AIR MACHINE MAY SOON BE FLYING OVER GLENDALE

Look out for the big Goodyear type dirigible balloon, which is liable to be seen hovering over Glendale some time in the near future. It was shipped from Washington several days ago and should arrive at Ross Field, Arcadia, in a week or two. Why it was not sent out under its own power to make the trip, does not yet appear. This is the type of dirigible that fell while flying over Chicago, recently, landing on top of the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank Building and killing more than a dozen people. The one coming to Ross Field is to be used in practice flights to note all deficiencies and thus avoid a repetition of the Chicago tragedy. This Field will shortly become one of the chief air-service schools of the country, with a complement of several hundred officers and enlisted men. Orders have been issued to send 342 air-service men from Mather Field, Sacramento, and Rantoul, Ill., as the fields in those two places are to be dismantled. When all these men have arrived, within the next week or ten days, and recruits expected come in, there

SHRINERS' BALL

Quite a delegation of Glendale Masons attended the ball given Monday evening at Shriners' Hall in Los Angeles, which was limited strictly to Shriners and their ladies. The hall had been used the week before for the ball given in honor of officers of the Pacific Fleet for which an elaborate scheme of decorations that transformed its appearance had been carried out. This was left for the Shriners to enjoy at their festivity and Mrs. Claud O. Pulliam who, with her husband and daughter, was a guest, says it was wonderfully beautiful. A screen of white lattice-work and arches separated the sections of raised seats at the sides from the main floor and this was twined with Cecil Brunner roses with most beautiful effect. Covering the ceiling were palm branches which had been painted white and which had the effect of feathers illuminated with red, white and blue electric lights. On the stage was a beautiful setting and at intervals search-lights of red, white and blue were thrown across the room from opposite sides to form a cross of color. Besides the Pulliams, Glendale was represented by Mr. and Mrs. David Crofton, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Clark, Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Boyer and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Morton and family.

DEPLORES LACK OF HOUSES

W. G. Borthick of Borthick Bros., real estate dealers, considers it quite a calamity that the stock of houses to rent has been exhausted and so many people are being turned away who would like to live in Glendale. To satisfy his own curiosity he kept tally one forenoon on the number of applicants for a house to rent, all of whom he had to send away because he had nothing for them. By a singular coincidence the number totaled 23, all of them persons who, judging from their general appearance, we would have been proud to number as citizens, but all had to skidoo.

Mr. Borthick seems to think as a measure of loyalty to the town and as sound business policy it would be an excellent idea to organize a stock corporation to pool small available capital in the community and with it build some up-to-date apartments, houses or bungalow courts. If modern and attractive, he says, they would command a good rental and help to relieve the situation.

TENNESSEEANS EN ROUTE

Mrs. W. L. Alexander of 126 West Acacia is expecting her brother-in-law and his family from Ridgely, Tenn., also Henry Hatcher and his mother and sister from the same place, and a Mrs. Griffin, likewise from Ridgely, who are coming to Glendale to make their permanent home.

INSTITUTIONAL CHURCH FOR METHODISTS IN PHOENIX

A. W. Lindley leaves today for Phoenix, Arizona, where he has been called to prepare plans of a $250,000 institutional church building for the Methodists. It is to take care of all the church activities and besides will include a dormitory with 150 rooms for men.

RANSOMED MEN ON AMERICAN SIDE

CAPTAIN MATLOCK DELIVERS MONEY TO BANDITS AND ACCOMPANIES LIEUTS. DAVIS AND PETERSON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, Aug. 19.—Lieutenants Peterson and Davis, who were set free by Mexican bandits on payment to them of a $15,000 ransom, have arrived on the American side, according to reports from Marfa, Tex. Captain Matlock, of the 8th Cavalry, carried the ransom money to the bandits' camp, returning with Davis while Peterson preceded them.

EIGHTEEN KILLED IN MINE EXPLOSION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

TRINIDAD, Colo., Aug. 19.—It has been definitely established that eighteen miners were killed in Monday's explosion in the Oakview mine. The bodies of twelve have been removed.

WASHINGTON RETICENT

SECRETARY BAKER SAYS THERE IS NO CONFIRMATION OF CAVALRY CROSSING BORDER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—While Secretary of War Baker claimed this afternoon that there was no official confirmation of the report that the Eighth Cavalry had crossed the Mexican border, it was admitted that Colonel Langhorne had orders to cross as soon as the two kidnaped aviators were safe.

The secretary held a conference with Secretary of State Lansing this noon. The Department of State had previously assured the War Department that a military expedition after bandits would be permissible.

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 19.—Official reports to the headquarters of the Southern Department said the full $15,000 ransom had been paid the Mexican bandits for the release of the American lieutenants.

PRESIDENT FIRM ON PEACE TREATY

TELLS FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE IT MUST BE ACCEPTED OR REJECTED AS IT STANDS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The Senate must accept the peace treaty and league of nations pact as they stand or reject them utterly, the President this morning told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in a conference held at the White House. There can be neither amendment, reservation or resolution if the Senate would avoid sending the compact back to the allies and to Germany for reconstruction and reacceptance, he declared. The President added with reference to Article Ten: "I do hope we are at liberty contemporaneously with our acceptance to interpret our moral obligations under the article." He said he saw no reasonable objection to interpretations accompanying the act of ratification provided they did not form a part of the ratification resolution.

EIGHTH CAVALRY PURSUES BANDITS

TROOPS CROSS INTO MEXICO TO FOLLOW KIDNAPERS LED BY LIEUTENANTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, Aug. 19.—Eighth Cavalry troops crossed into Mexico early today below Candalaria in pursuit of the Mexican bandits who released the American lieutenants held for ransom. Aeroplanes are scouting with the cavalry and endeavoring to pick up the trail of the bandits. Colonel Langhorne sent American troopers across in accordance with orders from the War Department authorizing punitive expeditions while the trail was "hot."

This is the ninth crossing made by Colonel Langhorne's men in two years. There is no undue activity among American armed forces at Fort Bliss. The pursuing troops are expected to be back on the American side tonight. It is unofficially reported that Lieutenants Peterson and Davis joined the cavalry and acted as guides in the chase.

DAYLIGHT-SAVINGS LAW

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The repeal of the daylight-saving law was passed by the House over the veto of President Wilson. The vote to over-ride the veto was 223 to 101.

ELKS HAVE BIG TIME

FINE PROGRAM MARKS INITIATION OF 20 NEW MEMBERS, OTHERS WAIT TURN

Another "big time" and an assembly of Elks numbering not less than 350, is the report of the Monday night meeting of the Elks' Lodge at which twenty new members were initiated. This by no means exhausted the list of applicants but under the rules the largest class which can be initiated at one time is 20. Captain Stroeme, who was second in command of the "Lost Battalion" in the battle of Argonne and who is now the Exalted Ruler of the San Bernardino Lodge, headed a delegation of 15 or 20 from that city. There was also a delegation from Pasadena.

Following the initiatory ceremonies a jinks program of rare merit provided by local talent was put on, Joe Fortunato having charge of this feature. A conspicuous figure among the entertainers was little Robert Lehman who gave the program of female impersonations with which he delighted audiences at Grauman's last week. He received quite an ovation of applause when he concluded his number and pulled off his curly wig revealing himself as a boy. Miss Viola Yorba and her partner of Casa Verdugo charmingly interpreted Spanish dances, and vocal numbers which won sincere applause were contributed by Leo Goode and a lady

WILL BECOME RANCHER

THOMAS D. OGG SELLS GLENDALE HOME AND GOES TO COACHELLA RANCH

T. D. Ogg has sold his home at the corner of Kenwood street and California avenue to Mrs. M. E. Fritz of Roswell, New Mexico, who will take possession the latter part of next week. She owns a fine home in Roswell also, and will divide her time between the two cities. A daughter, whose husband paid the supreme price of liberty in the late world war, will be in charge of the home here with her little son. Other relatives of Mrs. Fritz will live here with the daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogg sold the furniture with the home and will go soon to Coachella to live at the hotel while he devotes all his time to the 80-acre ranch owned three miles west of there and two miles south of Thermal. He will sink a 600-foot well for irrigation water and will have the ground cleared of mesquite and weeds, then put 40 acres in onions. He expects to set out a large number of date palm shrubs also. Several Glendale people own ranches near Mr. Ogg's, but none of the owners live on them yet. Mr. and Mrs. Ogg have been residents of Glendale for several years and their going will be a source of regret to many.

SURPRISED AND SHOWERED

When Miss Irene McLaren, who is stenographer for her father in his Los Angeles office, arrived at home shortly after noon on Saturday last, she found 15 of her young lady friends in possession of the home. They brought with them a shower of beautiful gifts in anticipation of Miss Irene's bridal day, in September. Music, dancing and refreshments occupied the afternoon most pleasantly for all.

TENNIS PARTY

Mrs. Messerly, who formerly lived on Colorado boulevard, entertained Sunday with a tennis party at her home near Burbank, at which a number of friends who at one time were residents of Glendale, were guests. The list included Mrs. Lyon of Oakland, formerly Miss Richards, who is here on a visit to her mother now residing on Westlake avenue in Los Angeles, but who during her residence in Glendale lived in the house now owned by Mrs. Ella Richardson at the corner of Central avenue and Riverdale Drive. Her brother, Lieut. Tom Richards, who was graduated from Glendale High, was also a guest. He has just been released from naval aviation service. Others entertained were Gaston Ganahl, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Mullen, Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn White of Eagle Rock.

Walter Beach of 633 North Brand boulevard and Lewis Reid of Cedar street left together last week for the University of California at Berkeley. Walter was graduated from Glendale High in 1918 and Lewis was a 1919 graduate. They are planning to take general courses.

ENJOYABLE OUTING

D. B. PINGREE AND WIFE HAVE DELIGHTFUL VACATION TRIP OF OVER 500 MILES

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Pingree, of 700 South Columbus avenue, returned from a vacation trip last Saturday. It is their opinion that one may find the most varied scenery in a two weeks' auto trip, covering 500 miles of Southern California, that could be found anywhere on the globe. They traveled through Ventura and surrounding country, thence to Saugus and up through the desert for about one hundred miles, passing through Mojave and Freeman, then up over Walker's Pass, following the South Fork of the Kern River, into the main canyon and to "Fairview," on the Kern, where they spent some time. The return trip was via the "Summit Trail" over the Greenhorn Mountain range, a climb to 7,280 feet above sea level, where the scenery was particularly beautiful, being in a wild country, and among the Sequoias. The trip from Glenville to Bakersfield was the hottest of the journey as they found there the burning wind and heat they had expected to find in the desert and did not, though the desert trip was made in the afternoon of August 3d.

The last of the journey from Bakersfield was made over the State Highway, with regrets that the Ridge Route was not completed. They found the stream in Bouquet Canyon almost dry, and entirely so in places. Altogether, it was a most interesting trip. Mr. and Mrs. Pingree traveled in a three-machine party, the others being Mr. and Mrs. E. Phelps of Hollywood and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee of Santa Paula.

BUSINESS INCREASING

Hearn Robinson of the Robinson Brothers' Transfer Company says the popularity of Glendale as a place to live and the numerous new families that have filled up all the houses and apartments have greatly increased his business over what it was last year, for to him has fallen the job of moving the household effects of many such new comers and the filling up of the town has strengthened the demand for all kinds of supplies and necessitated the transportation of many articles from Los Angeles. He laments that there are not more houses available here and says he knows many people who would have been glad to remain and who would have been desirable citizens have been driven to other towns because accommodations were not to be had here. Two months ago the company had to purchase a new van truck,—a gorgeous big red one, in order to handle its business and it is now sending two trucks to Los Angeles daily. Mrs. Hearn Robinson has been assisting her husband in the office since Mrs. Edna Clanin resigned her position there. Mrs. Robinson had experience along that line before her marriage and rather enjoys returning to it.

CAPTAIN BURTON A BENEDICT

Captain Vincent Burton, who was graduated from Glendale High in 1909 and who is in the regular army in the infantry branch, returned a week ago with his bride, an English girl, whom he met and married in China. During his stay here and in Los Angeles he was the guest of honor at a family dinner party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Burton, who are now living in Inglewood. The Captain and Mrs. Burton were also dinner guests Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Mullen on West Harvard street. Captain Burton has been assigned to Camp Kearny and left for San Diego Saturday night.

CELEBRATES FIFTH BIRTHDAY

Master John Cleeves, at 1276 Boynton street, celebrated his fifth birthday Monday afternoon by asking some of his little friends to help him eat his birthday cake. Mrs. James Mullen and Mrs. H. J. Salzman assisted the little ones with their games, which preceded the refreshments. The host, with the help of his lady friends, served the cake in the vine-covered pergola which proved cooling in the hot afternoon. There were present: Dick Ambrose, James MacDonald, James Mullen, Stella Oberdick, Dollie Salzman, Ethel Service, Chester Wiedman, Jean Williams and Frank Williams.

WILLIAM BODE GOES NORTH

William G. Bode, who did his bit in the great war as a member of the 143d Field Artillery and who returned from overseas service several months ago, leaves Wednesday morning for San Jose, where he takes a position in the shipping department of the Mission Label Company, a big lithographic concern whose distributing point is San Francisco, but whose printing plant is at San Jose. Just what his work will be he cannot tell until he gets there. He is not very enthusiastic about leaving his home and friends here but considers that the opportunity which has come to him is too good to turn down. He has asked the Evening News to say good-bye for him to the many friends with whom he will be unable to communicate in person.

TEDDIE ROBINSON CELEBRATES

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robinson of 122 West Acacia avenue entertained Sunday afternoon in celebration of the second birthday of their son Teddy. Pink hollyhocks from the garden of the hostess provided beautiful and unusual floral decorations and a beautiful birthday cake which centered the refreshment table bore the pink candles. There was a party favor for each little guest and a paper cap for each one. The little guest of honor received many pretty gifts and had a happy, exciting afternoon. The friends who celebrated with him were: Jack and Jim Griffin, Edward and Clifford Clanin, G. E. and Lester Alexander, Doris Alexander, Don Hamilton, a returned soldier, who brought the baby some German coins, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Miller, the grandparents of the celebrant.

FUNERAL OF PROF. SHEARIN

Funeral services were held this morning at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park over the body of Prof. Hubert G. Shearin, head of the English Department of Occidental College whose sudden, almost tragic, death a week ago shocked the community of Eagle Rock, where he was a prominent and much respected citizen who since he came from Kentucky and became a resident in 1914 had been an active worker in every public movement for civic improvement. He leaves a wife and two children. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, a member of the School Board and of the local Chamber of Commerce. He was seemingly in perfect health the night he died and on returning to his home for dinner discovered a water pipe leaking at his garage. He undertook to repair it himself and when 9 o'clock arrived with the task uncompleted, told his wife to go to bed without waiting for him, which she did. Waking at 2 a. m. and supposing he had come in and gone to his room, she called to him. Receiving no answer she went to the library and not finding him there ran to the garage and discovered his body in a trench he had dug beside the water pipe and partly under the garage. Dr. Phinney, a nearby physician, was immediately called. He came at once and pronounced life extinct. The services were largely attended and floral tributes numerous and of unusual beauty.

THE FARMER VIEW

How the congressmen from farmer districts feel about daylight savings was reflected in a vigorous speech on the subject by Gilbert Haugen of Iowa, now Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture: "Why deprive 100,000,000 people of sleep at the proper and God-appointed time in order to give the golf player that extra hour on the golf links and accommodate a few who desire to work on the earlier schedule?" Continuing, he said:

"What unpardonable sin have the people in the country committed that warrants the discrimination? Have they not done their part? We wete at war. The world was short of food. The winning of the war depended upon food as much as upon any other thing. Congress found it necessary to fix the price of wheat at half the price the farmer would have received if the law of supply and demand had not been interfered with. He gave his sons to the army; his wife and daughters took his sons' place in back of the plow. He bought bonds, he gave to the Red Cross and Young Men's Christian Association. Invariably his hired help quit work at the usual time by the clock, which was an hour early as a result of this unjust and uncalled-for law, and interfering with the law of nature on the farm.

"The act not only costs the farmer millions of dollars annually, but curtails production, and thus adds to the already high cost of living to millions of consumers. We have 6,000,000 farmers and 6,000,000 laborers employed on the farm. One hour lost each morning, owing to the dew, to each of the 12,000,000 on the farm is equal to 12,000,000 hours, which is equivalent to 1,500,000 eight-hour days, and that, at a wage of $4 a day, amounts to $6,000,000 loss to those on the farm daily at least for every day during the several weeks of haying, harvesting, and threshing that this absurd law is in effect."

ELECTRICAL VOTING

"The Life of Edison," by F. L. Dyer and T. C. Martin, tells the story of his first invention, an electrical voting machine. It was demonstrated to Congress fifty years ago, and found to work perfectly. But because it would enable a roll of the House, which now takes nearly an hour, to be called in about a minute, that body refused to abandon the time-killing "aye and nay" method. The question naturally arises, if Congress has had this time-saving advice before it for a full half century with no sign of its adoption, how long, O Lord, will it be before such action is taken?

Telegraph repairs and experiments were going on constantly, and with the aid of one of the men there—probably George Anders—Edison worked out into an operative model his first invention, a vote-recorder, the first Edison patent, for which papers were executed on October 11, 1868, and which was taken out June 1, 1869, No. 90,646. The purpose of this particular device was to permit a vote in the National House of Representatives to be taken in a minute or so, complete lists being furnished of all members voting on the two sides of any question.

Mr. Edison in recalling the circumstances, says: "Roberts was the telegraph operator who was the financial backer to the extent of $100. The invention when completed was taken to Washington. I think it was exhibited before a committee that had something to do with the Capitol. The chairman of the committee, after seeing how quickly and perfectly it worked, said: 'Young man, if there is any invention on earth that we don't want down here, it is this. One of the greatest weapons in the hands of a minority to prevent bad legislation is filibustering on votes, and this instrument would prevent it.' I saw the truth of this, because as press operator I had taken miles of Congressional proceedings, and to this day an enormous amount of time is wasted during each session of the House in foolishly calling the members' names and recording and then adding their votes, when the whole operation could be done in almost a moment by merely pressing a particular button at each desk. For filibustering purposes, however, the present methods are most admirable."

Edison determined from that time forth to devote his inventive faculties only to things for which there was a real, genuine demand, something that subserved the actual necessities of humanity. This first patent was taken out for him bby the late Hon. Carroll D. Wright, afterward U. S. Commissioner of Labor, and a well-known publicist, then practicing patent law in Boston.

Mr. Freeman, manager of Chaffee's Glendale Grocery, is taking a vacation this week.

Mrs. M. D. Metcalf and daughter, Miss Beda Metcalf, of 340 North Maryland avenue, are expected home from the north next week.

Brand boulevard is being resurfaced on the west side between Colorado and Lomita. The renovation of the east side was completed about a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hill of Santa Ana and their two little children were week-end guests of Mrs. Hill's parents, Rev. and Mrs. James Moody of 320 North Maryland avenue.

Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., is entertaining members of the Parliamentary Law Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club and a few other friends at her summer cottage at Laguna Beach Thursday.

Morris Caruthers, who has been spending several weeks at Laguna Beach, where he is building a house nearly completed, came back for the week-end. He will return to Laguna in a few days.

The fairy form of Jack Lucas is seen in Chaffee's grocery these times holding down the old job he left a few months ago to sell autos. He is now substituting for Ernie, who is on his vacation.

Mrs. Roy Wiggins of Tehachepi arrived Saturday night and surprised her uncle, J. M. Banker, of Cedar street, whose guest she now is. She is accompanied by her little daughter.

F. H. Walker, who formerly conducted a safety razor grinding business at 111 West Broadway and who went to Pittsburg, Pa., last April to visit numerous relatives and old friends, arrived at home last Saturday.

S. W. Fenton, who recently came to California from Cleveland, Oklahoma, where he has been chief of police for seven years past, and bought a home at 606 Vine street, has moved in and he started off right by becoming a regular reader of the Evening News.

Miss Alice Frank has been quite ill and is still confined to her bed, but is recuperating.

Rev. Clifford A. Cole, wife and two sons, accompanied by Miss Eva Garton, sister of Mrs. Cole, will hitch up Lizzie this afternoon and hie them away to Forest Home, in the San Bernardino Mountains, to enjoy an outing of two weeks.

A. W. Lindley is always loyal to Glendale, so he is giving opportunity for Glendale contractors to bid on two church buildings he recently prepared plans for, one for the Friends at Bell and a Community church at Owensmouth.

William Chappell, who recently returned from a visit with relatives in Missouri and has been living at the Vert-Mont, leaves Wednesday to make his home for the present at the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle.

Mrs. H. C. Fenstermaker, who moved to Los Angeles more than a year ago after the death of Mr. Fenstermaker and later sold her beautiful home on Central avenue, has again felt the lure of Glendale. She has taken an apartment at the De Luxe and will move to Glendale Thursday.

Donald Conlin, who used to live in Glendale but whose home is now in Pasadena, has returned after completing a four years' enlistment in the navy. He is glad to be out and is not re-enlisting. He was in Glendale calling on friends Sunday.

Ernie Collins and wife are enjoying a two weeks' outing while Ernie is taking his vacation from Chaffee's store, where he is in charge of the meat department. They were in San Diego and Tia Juana last week and are at one of the beaches this week.

R. F. Kitterman, one of the new men recently associated with the management of the First National Bank, is now a resident of the city having located in the McClellan apartments, Louise and Wilson Ave. Mr. Anderson's family has not come to Glendale yet.

J. A. Legge, who left about two weeks ago on a camping and auto trip, is expected home next week. He is having a delightful time, his itinerary including the country around Bishop, Lake Tahoe, Sacramento and San Francisco. During his absence, Mrs. Legge with her little son, John Allen, Jr., has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Pulliam

Mrs. Hannon, accompanied by her two daughters, Helen and Grace, and Miss. Abbie Flynn, all of Shawnee, Oklahoma, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Yager, of 111 South Brand boulevard from Saturday to Tuesday. Mrs. Hannon spent two days in San Francisco with her sister.

Mrs. Mabel Rudy returns the last of the week after a month's stay at Tent City, Coronado, and is going back there Wednesday. She is delighted with it and wants to stay another month. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wood of this city have been guests there for two weeks, also Ralph Meeker and family who have spent most of the summer there and will remain for another week. Mrs. Meeker, Mrs. Rudy says, is much improved in health.

P. A. C. Moore and son Presley of Oakland were in Glendale Monday to see Mel, who had intended going to work in Clinton's garage, but his father and brother employed him to act as salesman for them, introducing their new table syrup made from cane sugar. They put it up in glass barrels of 1½, 2 and 5-pound sizes. They are conducting the business under the name of The Barrel Syrup Co. All the Moores were Glendale citizens for years.

Mrs. W. Reed Heustis of 378 West Myrtle street looks for the return of her mother, Mrs. Gies, and her sister, the first of next week. They were called east by the sudden death of her father who left here in July to visit his four sons at Easton, Pa., where he was attacked by pneumonia and expired. Besides his three daughters in this city he had made many friends here by whom he was highly regarded. Mr. and Mrs. Heustis have gone to Venice for a week.

The relatives of Commander Paul Blackburn, Executive Officer of the Battleship Mississippi in the Pacific Fleet all received invitations to be his guests on the ship whenever it would be convenient for them to come, the invitation giving them instructions to go to Pier 3 at San Pedro and summon the officers' launch which would convey them to the vessel. The Byrkit family visited him Sunday, but Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blackburn were not able to go then, and will not see him this time as the fleet leaves tomorrow, but inasmuch as it is to be stationed on this coast, they expect to have other opportunities of visiting him.

Western and Melrose avenues tonight for the annual conference for the transaction of business and election of officers, and will not be thrown open to the public for camping purposes until Thursday night.

It is expected that the Los Angeles meeting will be even larger than the one at Oakland. Three hundred tents have been erected and nearly all of them have been engaged, but the grounds are large and there is room for more to be put up if necessary. The main tent where the general meetings will be held will hold 3000 persons and should that not be large enough, canvas will be stretched around the outside and the sides lifted until there is room sufficient for the worshipers. Besides this main tent are a number of smaller tents, viz., for Young People's meetings, for Spanish-speaking people's meetings, for meetings of children and for little kindergarteners. Also there will be a dining pavilion, a store tent, a tent for departmental officers where literature will be on sale and a headquarters building where the secretary, treasurer and other officers will be in attendance. Special tents will be provided for ministers and speakers, of which there will be a big force. Four men will be there from Washington, D. C., one of the four being Elder W. T. Knox, treasurer of the General Conference, at one time president of the California Conference. A speaker who will have an interesting message will be Elder Elbridge Adams, one of the missionaries to the Philippines who is here on a furlough. Other distinguished men of the denomination who will be present are H. H. Hall, manager of the Book Department of the Pacific Press Publishing Association at Mountain View, and Elder A. O. Tate, editor of "Signs of the Times," one of the weekly journals of the denomination.

A large delegation will go from Glendale of families who will camp on the grounds that they may take full advantage of a program which will provide for about fifteen meetings a day. They will begin with devotional meetings for adults and young people at 6 a. m. and continue throughout the day with suitable intermissions. The second meeting which will be for "the workers" will be at 8:30 a. m. and family worship in the tents at the same hour. At 9:30 a. m. there will be departmental meetings each day; 11 o'clock, preaching service; 1 o'clock, dinner; 3 o'clock, preaching service; 5 o'clock, medical meeting; 7:30 to 8 p. m., song service by chorus choir and orchestra, and at 8 p. m., preaching service.

will be about 800 men permanently stationed at Ross Field, comprising the First, Second, Third, Thirteenth, Fifteenth, Twenty-First and Twenty-Third Companies. The Arcadia School was established solely for the training of men for balloons, "lighter-than-air" craft, and as the dirigible is of this same type, in contrast to the aeroplane, a "heavier-than-air" machine, it is now included in the equipment of the school. Just as three balloons from Ross Field have recently pased over Glendale, two of them landing in the city, so we may look for practice flights of the dirigible out this way as soon as all is in working order.

Major J. M. Harris, commander of the Field, says that the training of air-service men for later civilian balloon and dirigible occupations and trades is a new department of the technical and trades schools to be started shortly in Ross Field. He believes there is a big commercial future for dirigibles as passenger and freight carriers. With the discovery of non-explosive helium gas and the perfection of motors, dirigibles will soon be a factor to be reckoned with as transports for people and material into districts where railroads do not offer service, thus competing with the auto truck. It is for the training of men in these highly skilled trades of fabric workers, electric and motor experts, that the new classes are being organized at Ross Field.

The last rites of the once famous and prosperous mining town of Searchlight, Nev., were performed this week when the Salt Lake Railway abandoned Searchlight's railway station on account of lack of business.

The bowling team goes to Santa Monica tonight to participate in a contest.

Officers of the lodge and the drill team will go to San Pedro by special train September 8th to put on initiatory work there.
